FROM THE RABBI

"A PALACE IN TIME MADE OF SOUL, JOY AND RETICENCE"

Rabbi Abraham Joshua Heschel

Hey everybody, make Shabbat special and spend part of it here at B'nai Sholom sometimes.

Shabbat is such a gift, I don't understand why more Jews don't embrace it wholeheartedly. Just think, one day EVERY WEEK when you can say (for example): no laundry, no answering phone calls, no chores – whatever that means. It is such a relief to take the opportunity to slow down and appreciate what is most important in life: Family, friends, being alive. This week try saying, "Not today, it's Shabbat!"

Shabbat is one of the great innovations we have offered the world. The concept of one day a week to rest from work was unheard of in ancient times. It became a cornerstone of Israelite religion and then of Judaism. The Rabbis of Talmudic times who wrote the Shabbat Kiddush, the prayer we sing before drinking the Shabbat wine, told us in that prayer what Shabbat is about. It is a memorial of creation; appreciate life! It is a remembrance of the Exodus from Egypt; live as equals on this day and explore what freedom means!

Rabbi Abraham Joshua Heschel described Shabbat as a Palace in Time. There is not any particularly holy PLACE in the world, rather TIME is what we sanctify. A specific time, Shabbat, comes every week as an invitation to try again to live a perfect day. Rabbi Heschel says Shabbat is made of soul. What that means to 21st century Huntingtonian Jews is an open question. What feeds your soul? Music, exercise, meditation, feasting with family, walking in the woods, studying with friends, prayer? It may not be the same thing as what brings you joy. For example, my soul was fed recently by reading an account of a psychologist's desperately deep depression: Undercurrents – A Life Beneath the Surface, by Martha Manning. It enlarged my soul and made me a more whole person, but I sobbed through it. I didn't read it on Shabbat. For me Shabbat is for music and poetry, Torah and prayer, special food and family.

I do not expect everyone to find that special joyous soul food in services at B'nai Sholom, though I do hope you try each of our Shabbat services to see what they have to offer. I want you to explore wide ranges of possibilities, AND I want you to keep in mind that one of our greatest strengths as Jews is learning from each other. Rabbi Hillel (1st century sage) said, "Do not separate yourself from the community." We all need time to ourselves. We also need the sustenance and richness that comes from socializing, working, playing, studying and praying together, so...

PLEASE DON'T SCHEDULE EVENTS YOU WANT TEMPLE MEMBERS TO ATTEND DURING SERVICE TIMES!

Wishing you one day a week – every week – for freedom and joy,
Rabbi Jean Eglinton

Please inform the Rabbi if you are in the hospital so that she can visit you.

Please don't expect that she will find out about it somehow. If you or someone you love is in the hospital, please call the B'nai Sholom office: 304-522-2980.

If you would prefer not to be visited, she would be glad to call if you provide a cell phone number.

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Congregants,

As the new president of B'nai Sholom, I would first like to thank out going president Mark Newfeld for being a very strong and effective leader . Under Mark's guidance, B'nai Sholom thrived and evolved. The good news is, as past president Mark will continue to serve on the Board for another two year term. Also, it is important to thank board members Malinda Cains and Lisa Ketchum for their dedicated service on the board. Both were very responsible and committed board members, always there to lend a strong helping hand. Their presence will be missed. Last, but not least, I proudly welcome new board members Kevin Levine and Kelly Levy, two very talented and experienced professionals. I have no doubt they will bring much wisdom to our board room table. Thank you for your decision to serve.

I have been a member of B'nai Sholom since August of 1982 when Steve and I got married. Belonging to a synagogue was important to us because it meant having a place to worship, celebrate lifecycle events, experience a strong sense of community, plus stay connected to our Jewish heritage. In fact, immediately after joining, we became the Youth Group advisors for several years. It was the best decision and the start of my 31 year synagogue journey. It has lead me to this point in my life as president of B'nai Sholom, an honor I am proud to accept.

As I begin my two year term as President, I of course have many goals in mind. Below are a few of them.

- ❖ Continue building a strong sense of community by reaching out to all Jews in our Tri-State area, inviting them to fully participate and get involved with our friendly, energetic and welcoming congregation. The most powerful and beautiful part of our religion, I believe, is the communal experience of being together to worship, learn, socialize, serve and take care of one another. Making this happen takes a community. Community needs to exist in a place, and we want that gathering place for all Jews to be B'nai Sholom. As always, our WELCOME MAT is out and every person who walks through that door can be certain they will feel VALUED. Here with us, they will definitely experience the beauty and power of a caring community.
- ❖ Ensure our future financially. Does B'nai Sholom face challenges in the future? Of course it does. Our congregation, like hundreds of others, is experiencing a decrease in membership size, creating financial uncertainty for our congregation. Fortunately, with Rabbi Jean as our spiritual leader and the experience of our board, I have no doubt we are well positioned to meet these challenges. My idea to establish a Past President's Club, which includes 14 past presidents, will get the ball rolling by creating for us a much needed 5,10,15 year long term plan. I am anxious to see what these great minds together can foresee for the future of our congregation. The first meeting is scheduled for late August, with past president Sharon Pressman leading the charge.
- ❖ Be innovative and experiment with a variety of new ideas, programs and events in hopes of engaging all those who seek a meaningful Jewish life. If you haven't been in the building lately and nothing is compelling you to come, then please take the time to share with us what piece of the puzzle is missing for you. I am always available to hear your suggestions and concerns. No doubt, we need to be all things to all Jews in the Tri-State area.
- ❖ Engage new faces in the activities of the congregation by encouraging them to be invested stakeholders. Also, it is important to develop the next generation of leaders by inspiring young members of our congregation to get involved and learn the ropes. This way, when the time comes they will have the knowledge and understanding needed to lead and preserve the future of our congregation.

Again, thank you for this honor. I promise the board and I will do everything in our power to keep the congregation moving forward.

Shalom,
Diane Shattls

TISHA B'AV - The 9th of the Month of Av MOURNING THE DESTRUCTION

Monday Evening, July 15

7:00 pm Pre-fast Finger Food

7:30 pm Tisha B'Av Service

Tisha B'Av is a fast day commemorating the destruction of both Temples.

It is a complete fast from food and water for 24 hours, much like Yom Kippur. What is the difference? On Yom Kippur we don't need to eat because we are focused on the prayers, music, and study that are helping us to clear out our souls for the coming year. On Tisha B'Av we can't bear to eat because we are focused on the immense suffering of the calamities of Jewish history.

This year the fast runs from sundown July 15 to sundown July 16. Please join us for healthy snacks before the Service during which we will read from the Book of Lamentations (Eicha in Hebrew).

Dear Bnai Sholom Congregation,

I had the honor of being confirmed under the name of this great Congregation on May 14th. With that in mind, I haven't had the chance to thank the entire Congregation as a whole, but thankfully I now have that chance. Let me start first by thanking both Rabbi Jean and Rabbi Wucher for their time and dedication to every student who has been thrown at them. On top of that, I owe the Sisterhood my thanks for working so hard to help organize the whole event. Over the past few years, I've had many different classmates and teachers; once more I thank those teachers, and congratulate the students that stood with me to the end. Our parents continue to be supportive in all of our activities and they have aided us in and outside of the temple. I would like to send my appreciation to all the members of this fantastic Congregation who have supported and helped us through the first portion of our lives. Everyone who played a part in our education did something to bring us here; they have given us a foundation that will hopefully make us into better citizens, individuals, and Jews.

*Sincerely,
Aaron*

Dear B'nai Sholom Congregation,

I appreciate everything you have done for me. Thank you for the book that I am now excited to read in order to learn more about what being a female in Judaism means and my responsibilities to my faith. Everybody in the congregation has made a mark on my Jewish identity or my character, which I am very grateful for.

*Thank you,
Aysa Cains*

Simchas & Tchotchkes

It's never too soon or too late to begin thinking about Judaism's most sacred holidays. Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur are quickly approaching. Are you ready? We are.

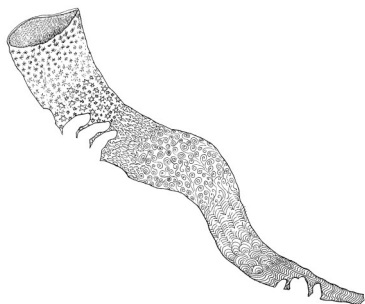

This summer the shop features three new tallit, including a silver and gold, that is quietly beautiful. All our tallit are made in Israel.

Thinking of owning your own yarmulke? You're in luck. A dozen new kippas, in fabric or knit, are waiting for you on one of our shelves.

We have several yads and numerous shofars, complete with display worthy stands.

Along with the more religious items, Simchas & Tchotchkes have many fun and gift items.

Come in and browse - - -then buy!!!

Remember, when it's gone - - - it's gone.

Come in for your free kiss.
