FROM THE RABBI

TORAH IS NOT IN HEAVEN

Lo bashamayim hi – It is not in heaven. Deuteronomy 30:12

The students in the class I teach at Marshall are generally interested in Judaism from an academic point of view. After all, most of them are not Jews. But here's the thing about learning: If it is only to fulfill some requirement toward graduation, it isn't real learning. Real learning is when you take something – an idea, or a story – into your mind and into your life. True learning changes you. So when we were studying Jewish ideas about God, we compared those to the students' ideas about God. Sometimes an idea in our discussion rang true, and I could see a student taking it into his life.

At B'nai Sholom we study Jewish prayers or texts or stories and compare them to our own experience. Often we reject ideas that seem far-fetched from our way of thinking and only accept that which rings true in some way. Part of what I try to do is bring you Jewish stories that seem outlandish. For example, our Lag B'Omer story from Talmud about the two rabbis emerging from twelve years of hiding in a cave, and everything they looked at with disapproval burst into flame! That's just crazy talk – unless you turn the story a bit and look for the kernel of truth that may be in it for you.

For me, at the moment, the story is about the destructive power of disapproval. Frequently I hear Jews disapproving of how other Jews do Jewish, so to speak. Whether it's scoffing at Shabbat practices or not keeping kosher (at least according to my way of thinking) the message is clear: Those other Jews are doing it wrong! It's bad enough when it's just a comment in general, but when we're talking about specific individuals it burns. At the root of it may be insecurity about our own Jewish authenticity.

In the story we acted out on Lag B'Omer out at Barboursville Park, one of the rabbis learned to heal what the other destroyed. So I've been thinking... Next time I hear a comment denigrating someone else's Jewish practice, I'm going to suggest that it would be more productive to talk about how we, you and I, are living as Jews instead of worrying about someone else's practice. As I've been living with the story, it is becoming part of me. An ancient Jewish image enriches my daily life. That's Torah.

Deuteronomy teaches that Torah is not far away and difficult to understand. Torah is not in heaven. Torah is in our mouths and in our minds. If we would only pick it up and work with it.

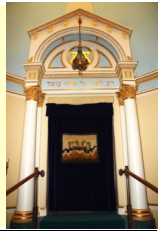

Shavuot, the time of the giving of the Torah, begins Tuesday night. May you do some real transformational Jewish learning that day and every day to come.

Rabbi Jean E. Eglinton

Come See Deedee at Empire Books June 13th

In case you missed the initial book launch for Deedee's book, "Dispatches of a Columnist: Opinions on Politics, Kids, Common Sense and Sex," at the Huntington Museum of Art last month, here's another chance to do so.

Friday, June 13th
(that's always a lucky day)
from 5:00 to 7:00 pm

Come to Empire Books at Pullman Square for some beverages and snacks and of course, if you haven't had a chance to buy her book, you can do so at that time.

If you've already bought the book, many thanks and join Deedee (and Maury who will naturally be taking photos) at Empire Books that evening just to say "Hi."

Making the Omer Count

On our climb from Passover Freedom to Shavuot Revelation we have been Making the Omer Count by collecting money for the Facing Hunger Foodbank. Our original goal was $50 per household ($1 a day for each day from Passover to Shavuot). At present we are a few thousand dollars short of the $5,000. Our new goal is to have every household contribute any amount toward fighting hunger in our community. If you haven't yet made a donation - there is still time! Write a check to B'nai Sholom with Food Bank on the memo line or leave cash in the tzedakah box in the social hall.

Here is a blog post Rabbi Eglinton wrote for the Religious Action Center about our quest:

<http://blogs.rj.org/rac/2014/05/27/making-the-omer-count-5774/>

B'nai Sholom will soon be registered on Amazon Smile's website!

Using AmazonSmile is just like ordering on Amazon.com, except on your first visit to you will be prompted to select a charitable organization from our list of eligible organizations. Amazon Smile will remember your selection, and then for every eligible purchase you make on smile.amazon.com, the AmazonSmile Foundation will donate 0.5% of the purchase price to B'nai Sholom! They do not charge any administrative fees or take any deduction from the donation amount, and there is no cost for us to participate. We will send out an email to everyone as soon as B'nai Sholom is registered on Amazon Smile. Thank You to...

*Dr. Stephanie Skolik for the beautiful print she donated to the Temple called Alien Fire. Stephanie was the artist who painted this beautiful picture and we will proudly hang it in our foyer for all who enter the building to see. Rose Riter is the owner of the original painting. As you will see or have seen, the beauty of the painting will capture your attention immediately.

*Malinda Cains for sharing her hours and expertise to install the new office computer, upload updates, and all the technical tasks involved with getting a new computer up and running. Thanks to Malinda for also finding and ordering everything that was needed! We don't know what we would do without you Malinda; most likely we would have spent more money to have the Geek Squad do it all.

*All members who made the effort to attend our Spring Congregational Meeting. I was very happy with the turnout especially since we had our surprise guest speaker, Maurice Hartz there to tell his amazing story. Thank you Maurice for agreeing to come with your beautiful wife Susie. (see page 8 for pictures about Maurice's story!)

The meal prepared by Lisa Jacobson, Lisa Ketchum and Nancy Newfeld was delicious and made coming even more enjoyable. The other highlight at the meeting, which was something new, was the naming of a male and female volunteer of the year. This idea was long overdue, as we have so many congregants deserving of this award. The first two honorees for the award were Herman Glaser and Malinda Cains. Two leaves were placed on the tree in their honor along with a framed leaf for them to take home and hang on the wall. Lastly, I am proud to say we were out of the meeting before 8:00 PM, which made all those attending happy.

*David Glick for speaking so eloquently and reciting Kaddish on Thursday, May 22 at the Huntington Fire Department's ceremony for its new firefighting/rescue vessel, the Hartz-Booth Memorial Vessel, Marine Company One.

*Thank you to all Sisterhood members who take the time to keep up with our dirty table linens by taking them home each week to wash them. They do this so that the temple does not have to incur a hefty cleaning bill for laundering the cloths. Watching the members lug out the baskets to their cars, then lug them back in shows me we have members who truly care about our temple, and I am touched each time I witness their commitment. Pat Johnson, Nancy Newfeld and Sharon Pressman are three that I see do it pretty regularly. So next time you see them, please take the time to thank them for their effort.

New Huntington Fire Department Rescue Boat dedicated May 22, 2014, in memory of two fireman killed in the tragic Ohio River rescue accident on May 22, 1948.

Lieutenant Leonard Hartz, the only Jew to ever serve the HFD, and Fireman William Booth, drowned on that fateful day as they attempted to rescue three boys from the Ohio River.

Maurice Hartz, a retired fireman and youngest son of the late Leonard Hartz, came to the Temple office a couple of months ago to ask if someone from the Jewish community could recite Kaddish at a big event coming up in on May 18, 2014—the dedication of a long awaited, state-of-the-art fire and rescue boat for the Huntington Fire Department. Maurice was only 19-months old when his father, Lt. Leonard Hartz, and Fireman William Booth died in an effort to save three boys who were drowning in the Ohio River on May 22, 1948. Both gave their lives in the performance of their duty, and reflected the highest ideals of the Huntington Fire Department.

Temple Board President Diane Shattls was so moved by Maurice's story that she invited him to come share it with members of B'nai Sholom Congregation at the May 18, 2014 Congregational Dinner meeting—just four days before the May 22 event that would commemorate the 66th anniversary of the tragic accident and dedicate the Huntington Fire Department's new fire and rescue boat.

Lieutenant Leonard Hartz and his parents and siblings were members of B'nai Israel.

After the tragic rescue accident on The Ohio River in 1948, the Huntington Chapter of B'nai B'rith presented a plaque to the Huntington Fire Department in honor of the two firemen who drowned, Lieutenant Leonard Hartz and Fireman William Booth. Pictured from left are:

Mrs. John Gallagher, sister of William Booth, Leonard Lerner - chairman of the Plaque Committee for B'nai B'rith, Fire Chief Lloyd Crouse receiving the plaque from Herman Fetter - B'nai B'rith President, Mike Laymen and Leon Fishman - officers of B'nai B'rith, Harold Herbert - brother-in-law of Leonard Hartz, Ruby Hartz - widow of Leonard Hartz with their two children - Maurice Hartz - 19 months and William Hartz - 5 1/2 years.

Maurice spoke at our recent Congregational meeting, May 18.

Ironically, the birthday of Lt. Leonard Hartz was on May 22, the same date that he died. Leonard was a WWII veteran, having served in The Coast Guard. His parents were Samuel and Eva Pres Hartz. His sister and brothers were Alice Hartz Herbert, Maurice Hartz and Francis Hartz. All were members of B'nai Israel in Huntington.

On May 22, 1948, Lt. Hartz and Fireman Booth responded to a call to rescue three boys in the Ohio River. The river was swollen and swift. The current caused the firemen's boat motor to quit and it wouldn't restart. Undertow from nearby barges pulled the boat and the two firefighters under. Maurice explained that in those days, some aspects of firefighter safety and training were not stressed and as important as they are today. The firemen were not wearing life jackets and had their heavy firefighting gear on, which impeded their ability to swim. Their boots and pockets filled with water, causing additional weight. Tragically, they and the three boys drowned.

The Huntington Fire Department has never had a first class fire boat until now. Named after the two firefighters who gave their lives in the line of duty, The Hartz-Booth Memorial Vessel, Marine Company One has full rescue and fire fighting capabilities. We thank Temple member David Glick, who spoke so eloquently during the memorial service segment of the dedication ceremony on the Ohio River May 22, and recited Kaddish.

But most of all we thank Maurice Hartz for sharing this story and dedication event with us. We know that some of our members and faraway friends who receive this newsletter will remember Leonard Hartz and his family, and will appreciate reading this story.

2014 Israel Independence Day at Pullman Square!

Special guest "Bat-Man" was a big hit this year! Bob Kane and Bill Finger, both Jewish, created the original Bat-Man character in the 1930s.

SIMCHAS & TCHOTCHKES

Wow!! June is the month for lots of shopping....

1. Graduations
2. Weddings
3. Father's Day
4. New houses
5. New babies
6. Old babies (normal birthdays)
7. Get well quicks

The list goes on and on but luckily for you, the Shop Chicks have chosen not to list the nine additional reasons that we came up with! Hint* Some were x-rated.*

Simchas & Tchotchkes is the place to find all the gifts you may need (including the x-rated ones). The shelves are glistening with the sparkle of glass, the shimmer of silver and the glow of goodies.

We have new and traditional Judaica to meet all your needs. And we have generic and/or gentile items to meet all your other needs.

If you don't think you need anything, stop in the shop and we will convince you otherwise.

Yes, we have cards for every occasion too!

Remember, when it's gone, it's gone!!!
Kisses are always free.
