From the Rabbi

Rachamim/Compassion – not only a feeling, a course of action

"Nobody asked who was Jewish and who was not. Nobody asked where you were from. Nobody asked who your father was or if you could pay. They just accepted each of us, taking us in with warmth, sheltering children, often without their parents—children who cried in the night from nightmares." *

—Elizabeth Koenig-Kaufman, a former child refugee in Le Chambon

The people of the town of Le Chambon-sur-Lignon in south-central France were responsible for saving thousands of Jewish lives during WWII. The pastors and families of the area welcomed Jews who were freed from Marseilles camps by the efforts of local Quakers. At the risk of the lives of their families the residents of Le Chambon sheltered Jews and other “non-desirables” in their homes. When Vichy patrols came by, they sent the Jews into the woods to hide and called them when the danger had passed.

In Judaism the values of love and compassion are understood not only as emotional responses but as active responses. Our love of God is expressed by taking care of God’s creatures. Similarly, compassion is about action. It begins with empathy – How would I feel if I were this person? Nevertheless, compassion is not fully realized until we have DONE something for this person.

The Protestants of Le Chambon had a long history of persecution by the Catholic majority. This experience most probably enlivened their empathy with the Jews in that time of our persecution by the Nazis and by the Vichy government of France. The remarkable thing is that they weren’t content to have a fellow feeling – they saved lives, even at the risk of their own.

In a Jewish sense, true Rachamim/Compassion is not just feeling, but ACTING on another's behalf.

We will be studying Rachamim/Compassion in the next installment of our series of classes on Mussar - Jewish Self-Discipline, or Soul Learning. Try it out. Sunday, November 15:

9:00am – Morning Minyan (weekday prayer service)

10:00am – Put together the boxes we will use for our Thanksgiving Project next week.

11:00am – Study Rachamim with us in our Mussar class based on Alan Morinis’ book Everyday Holiness – The Jewish Spiritual Path of Mussar.

Let’s see how we can develop our capacity for Rachamim, for Compassion, and make a difference for others in our community.

Wishing you the experience of developing your Rachamim in this season of thanksgiving.

Rabbi Jean E. Eglinton

This Sunday, November 8

Book Discussion 10:30 AM

RSVP for the Brunch to the office

Discussion facilitated by Deedee Mufson.

"The Kill Artist," by Daniel Silva.

There are two books available in the office. You may also order a book from Amazon or check with Cabell County Library for the book.

Tightly written thrillers like The Marching Season have made bestselling novelist Daniel Silva a favorite of readers everywhere. In The Kill Artist, he paints an absorbing portrait of a reluctant hero's attempt to thwart an old enemy to preserve a precarious peace. After the assassination of his wife and son, Gabriel Allon retires from his brutal anti-terrorist career and loses himself in his previous cover job: art restoration. But when Tariq al-Hourani, the Palestinian terrorist responsible for his family's death, begins a killing spree designed to destroy Middle East peace talks, Gabriel once again slips into the shadowy world of international intrigue.

In a global game of hide-and-seek, the motives of Gabriel and Tariq soon become more personal than political. Filled with vivid action and a fascinating cast of supporting characters.

It's time for our Thanksgiving Food Project...

This year we hope to provide boxes of food to local families in need. How many people we can help depends on how much you donate. Thanks to those who have donated so far.

The cost of each food box is $20.

Donations may be mailed to B'nai Sholom Congregation
Please contact Peter Levy if you can volunteer for any of the times mentioned below: (304- 208-4898).

Volunteers are needed on these dates:

Sunday, November 15, six people needed to assemble the boxes at 10:00 AM

Sunday, November 22 at 10:00 AM
Six volunteers are needed to pick up the food at the store and bring to Temple.

Later that day, at least eight volunteers are needed to pack the boxes from 2:00 PM to 4PM.

Wednesday, November 25 at 10:00 AM, two volunteers are needed to help when agencies pick up the completed Thanksgiving boxes.

A Joint Project of B'nai Sholom Congregation and The Huntington Jewish Benevolent Association.

B'nai Sholom Train To Be Placed In The Temple Soon, Thanks To The Polan Family!

Earlier this year, local artists were picked to decorate trains that were later placed around downtown Huntington to be auctioned off to benefit our local Hoops Family Children's Hospital. Several members of the Polan Family generously submitted the highest bid for the B'nai Sholom train, which was decorated by Rabbi Jean Eglinton and Temple Bar Mitzvah student, Noah Compton. It was decoupage with photos of B'nai Sholom's life throughout the years.

The gift of the Train will be appreciated by the Congregation for many years. Our sincere thanks to The Polan Family: Sidney Polan and Rick McLaughlin, Marilyn Polan and David King, Lake and Louise Polan, Annette Polan, Lois Anne Polan and Rosilyn Polan. We will proudly display your gift downstairs so everyone gets a close look. Then we will move it to one of the Sunday school rooms that we are going to remodel as a museum and display area.

SIMCHAS & TSCHOTCHKES

The leaves are falling and soon the land will be a colorless canvas. No! No! No!

The Shop ladies have discovered magnificent pockets of color and we are unpacking them at this very moment (we hope).

Trays, baskets, pillows and pictures, dotted with sea shells, peacocks and toile (not all at once, you understand).

This new line comes just in time, because the happy holiday of Hanukkah is just around the corner.

We are totally ready! Not only do we have a vast selection of menorahs and dreidles, we are also up to our elbows in paper, decorations, and fluffy toys. Need some chocolate? We've got it.
Holiday bib? Can do. In fact we can, and will do it all.
