FROM THE RABBI

Jewels for the Finding

"I get very angry with people who make everything revolve around them as though they are so superior. But then my study partner said that in her experience people often act that way when they are insecure. That makes so much sense – and that will make it a lot easier for me to deal with them in the future."

This jewel of wisdom, was gleaned from our first Shabbat learning brunch. Some came from the morning service (where we were singing and studying the Torah reading) and some came from our other Saturday morning activities. We passed dishes – on that particular morning of pita, hummus, eggplant salad, tabouleh – and caught up with each other's lives. Thus revived, we read an English translation of a 2500 year old text about God. We learned a bit about the rabbinic interpretation of it and how it came to be included in the High Holy Day Prayer Book, the machzor, which we will read on Rosh Hashannah and Yom Kippur. In groups of twos and threes we considered the musings of a modern rabbi connecting those so-called Thirteen Attributes of God to a medieval Jewish practice of self-improvement called Mussar. We looked at it all through the lens of our own experience and this is what happened: At least one of us took away a personally useful lesson in forgiveness.

This is my idea of heaven. The only thing that would make it better is if we could do it outside. Something to look forward to on Sukkot.

Each month a Shabbat learning brunch is planned. I hope you can come to them all. I cannot stress enough how much we need feedback on this. If you love it, that's great. If you don't come it would help us to know why not – bad time for you, not interested in the topic, don't want to come to temple on Saturday morning... These are all perfectly valid reasons and we want to offer something that will fit your needs and preferences. What makes life sing for you? Let us know!

All the texts I bring can be studied quite productively in English. Hebrew, however, adds a deeper dimension, so we have organized two Hebrew classes. They will be on Thursday evenings beginning October 13, the first Thursday after Yom Kippur.

6:00-7:00 pm – Hebrew Alef – a beginning class for all who want to learn or review the letters.

7:00-8:00 pm – Hebrew Bet – an intermediate class for those who know the letters and want to work on acquiring more vocabulary and grammar.

Our goal is not simply to learn a bit more about our texts – though that is in itself a worthy one. Our goal is transformative learning – that we apply the jewels of our discussions to our lives. The key to a vibrant Judaism is that Jews find expression of our deepest joys and fears, and suggestions for how to live our lives the best we can. The key to that is Talmud Torah – study. Join us.

Shanah tovah umetukah – May you have a good and a sweet year, full of learning!

Rabbi Jean E. Eglinton

Would you like to make a difference in a student's life?

Peyton Elementary is looking for volunteers to mentor one, or if you like, two students on a specific day each week, spending 30 minutes with each student. With extra attention each week these students have the ability to excel. Every student will have a folder to guide us on what to work on, whether it be reading, spelling or math.

This program is sponsored by an organization called Communities In Schools. The objective is to build community support within the schools. If you are interested please let me know and we will get you signed up!

Remember: When you Drop In, they Don't Drop Out.

Thank you!

SISTERHOOD

Our Goal For The Year Is To Be More Mindful

As the New Year starts, I want to welcome everyone to Sisterhood. Those of you who participate, I look forward to seeing you again. Those of you who have not been active or joined yet, why not give it a try? There are many good reasons to join.

We value the opportunity to get to know the women in our community and to build social connections in the temple. Hopefully, we will help to continue your intellectual and spiritual growth as a member. Feel a sense of fulfillment by supporting or participating in meaningful projects that will continue Jewish life in the area, or to simply have fun. I hope one of these reasons sparks you to give it a try.

This year, our meeting times will be rotating between the usual Tuesdays at noon, (trying to keep it to an hour), Sunday mornings, and also Tuesday evenings. Please join us once and maybe you will come again.

Our goal for the year is to be more Mindful. Be that about the environment and recycling, more giving, joining in on the canned food drive or other projects, of our eating, and our body. I invite everyone to join us this year and get to know the fabulous women of our congregation.

Shana Tovah... and I look forward to seeing you often throughout the year!
Nancy Newfeld, Sisterhood President
